SUPPLEMENTAL SALES PERMIT BASED UPON A TRACTOR TEST OF ANOTHER COMPANY

The Department of Agriculture provided the following decision regarding the granting of a supplemental sales permit based upon the test of a tractor with the same specifications by another company.

1. The Board of Tractor Test Engineers has the right to determine if a tractor model needs to be tested when it is the same basic tractor tested and sold by another company.
2. Unless the two companies have an agreement that the report list both company names and model designations, only the original tractor name will be printed on the report.

Therefore, the policy of the Board will be to favorably recommend supplemental permits for the above circumstances only when evidence is submitted to indicate the companies agree that a supplemental permit be issued.
